HOW IT FEELS TO BE HANGED.—A Paris newspaper gives this extract from the notes of a young fellow who tried to commit suicide and was cut down before suffocation was complete. He was delighted to return to life, and it is noted that the would-be suicides who are rescued from their self-sought fate rarely renew their attempts to shuffle off this mortal coil. "When I stood on the chair the mirror on the mantel-piece involuntarily attracted me, and I looked at myself as I fastened the slip knot around my neck. Blood flowed to my head, for my face was very red; something took place at the same time in my optic nerves, for it seemed to me that my face suddenly began to make grimaces. My eyes and nose changed place incessantly, like the pieces of a kaleidoscope. I kicked the chair from under me and fell with the sensation that I had been struck on the top of my head with a hammer. I did not at first feel the rope around my neck. The only very clear impression which followed the blow with the hammer on my skull was that of great heaviness in the head. It seemed to me that my head was larger and heavier on my shoulders than the great bell of Notre Dame. At the same time I felt an immense weight falling around and in me. Then I felt extremely cold at my lower extremities, and at the same time an acute, terrible pain in my neck, which was produced by the rope, which cut my skin and sawed my veins. Then I felt nothing. Evidently this was the moment when my good aunt Cecile entered my room and cut me down."

A WOOLING NOT LONG A DOING.—It is told that Abernethy, while attending a lady for several weeks, observed those admirable qualities in her daughter which he truly estimated to be calculated to render the married state happy. Accordingly, on a Saturday, when taking leave of his patient, he addressed her to the following purport: "You are now so well that I need not see you after Monday next, when I shall come and pay you my farewell visit. But in the meantime I wish you and your daughter seriously to consider the proposal I am about to make. It is abrupt and unceremonious, I am aware, but the excessive occupation of my time by my professional duties affords me no leisure to accomplish what I desire by the more ordinary course of attention and solicitation. My annual receipts amount to—, and I can settle— on my wife; my character is generally known to the public, so that you may readily ascertain what it is. I have seen to your daughter a tender and affectionate child, an assiduous and careful nurse, and a gentle and lady-like member of a family; such a person must be all that a husband covets, and I offer my hand and fortune for her acceptance. On Monday, when I call, I shall expect your determination; for I really have not time for the routine of courtship."

In this humor the lady was wooed and won; and, we believe we may add, the union was felicitous in every respect.

SALT AND INSECTS' EGGS.—Says a Pennsylvania correspondent: "Observation leads me to believe that eggs, whether hen's eggs or the eggs of insects, after having absorbed salt, will no longer hatch out. I have used salt on garden beds to destroy the eggs of insects, and I have found that by so doing I have had less of certain kinds of insects to deal with afterward. Supposing this theory to be true, might not the farmers in the West, by sowing salt on their land, destroy the eggs of the grasshoppers and perhaps other insects in numbers sufficient to do some good, as to small lots. This would be of course impracticable on a large scale, or where salt would be too dear or scarce. I make this suggestion simply to call forth discussion, and would like to read the opinions of others on the same subject. By bringing our ideas to the light, may it not be possible for us, in this day of invention and improvement, to find out a partial remedy at least against the ravages of this destroying insect. I said I believed that eggs which had absorbed salt will no longer hatch out. Will those who know, please speak?"

ATTENTION TO THE OLD.—A little thoughtful attention, how happy it makes the old. They have outlived most of the friends of their early youth. How lonely their hour! Often their partners in life have long filed silent graves; often their children they have followed to the tomb. They stand solitary, bending on their staff, waiting till the call shall reach them. How often they must think of absent, lamented faces; of the love which cherished them, and the tears of sympathy which fell with theirs, now all gone. Why should not the young cling around and comfort them, cheering their gloom with songs and happy smiles?

It is told of a man poorly dressed, that he went to church seeking an opportunity to worship. The usher did not notice him, but seated several well dressed persons, who presented themselves, when finally the man addressed the usher, saying: "Can you tell me whose church this is?" "Yes, this is Christ's church." "Is he in?" was the next question, after which a seat was not so hard to find.

EMBLEM OF CHARITY.—The Egyptian hieroglyphic representing charity is a naked child, with a heart in his hand, giving honey to a bee without wings. The child represents the humility of charity; the heart in his hand, the cheerfulness of charity; giving honey to a bee without wings, the worthiness and helplessness of the object of charity.

It looks bad to see a dog preceding his master down the street, and calmly turn in at the first saloon he approaches. It shows that there is something lacking, a deplorable tendency on the part of the dog.

It is singular that mineral waters are only beneficial to the wealthy. We never knew a physician to advise a poor man to go to any watering place.

GOOD ADVICE TO A DYSPEPTIC.—A gentleman saw an advertisement, that a receipt for the cure of dyspepsia might be had by sending two postage stamps to the advertiser, and the answer was: "Dig in your garden and let whiskey alone."

If you cut the back legs of your chair two inches shorter than the front ones, the fatigue of sitting will be greatly relieved and the spine placed in better position.
